

THE BUNK LINE

Enjoy a Heritage train ride on our rural branch line that was first opened in 1866. Our line runs through the beautiful countryside of South Oxfordshire and links the historic riverside town of Wallingford with GWR trains at Cholsey. Travel on our 1950s coaches, hauled by one of our Heritage diesels locomotives or by a visiting steam engine. On your journey, look out for Cholsey Church, where Agatha Christie is buried, and spot the magnificent Red Kites, that are often seen flying across our line.

Our line links the national railway network at Cholsey, with the historic market town of Wallingford, Oxfordshire. The town and the River Thames are 10 minutes walk away, and you will find Castle ruins, a Museum and a selection of shops, restaurants and pubs. Known locally as "The Bunk", passenger services ceased in 1959. Having secured the line in 1981, the CWR Preservation Society has been working continually to enhance and improve the facilities on offer.

THINGS TO DO

Visit the Shop at Wallingford and browse our wide range of railway-related items for sale as well as a selection of second-hand books.

Relax in our Café and take the weight off your feet—stop awhile in our station café for teas, coffees, toasted sandwiches and other snacks.

Enjoy our Bar on train, serving local beers and soft drinks.

Visit Agatha Christie's Burial Site at St Mary's Church Cholsey—this is a short walk from Cholsey Station along country footpaths. Ask the Guard or the Cholsey Ticket Office for further details.

Explore Wallingford—a short walk from our station. Here, you will find a range of shops clustered around a 15th century market place. A little further away is the Castle and the River Thames. Wallingford also has a museum concentrating on local history.

Get Involved in the railway. We have many things to do behind the scenes—from routine tasks to exciting projects—and would be delighted to talk these through with you. No special skills are needed and everybody can contribute! Working groups are usually active on Saturdays (when trains are not running) and Thursdays. Call 07877 239307 or email volunteer@bunkline.uk to get involved.
